High end Furniture...

To buy or not to buy?

High end Furniture

Yeadon Junior School

Your parents are heading to the furniture store, as they have recently purchased a brand new house. Your mum has spotted the ultimate in luxurious and high-end furniture. A large kitchen table made out of mahogany, one of the most precious woods found in tropical forests throughout the world.

Recently during a geography lesson you have also learned about deforestation and its impact on the entire forest ecosystem and its community.

Looking at the piece of furniture alongside your mum, what would be your advice about this potential purchase? What do you think the impact would be, both environmentally and in respect to the community if people purchased these items?

Think points!
